

Annie Prince is simultaneously pursuing her BA and MA in Economics at Hunter College. She has previously worked in event production, prospect research and likes to work across disciplines. Areas of interest include Sustainability, Health economics, and Behavioral economics.